

October 27, 2009

JOIN US AS WE CELEBRATE GIS DAY 2009

Learn about the substantial contributions that GIS technology is making in your community everyday and about its application in various business and industries during the 2009 annual worldwide GIS Day™. This year Mt San Jacinto College, San Jacinto Campus is joining the National Geographic Society, the Association of American Geographers (AAG), University Consortium for Geographic Information Science (UCGIS), The Library of Congress, US Geological Survey, (USGS), Sun Microsystems, Hewlett-Packard, and Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI) in presenting this GIS technology to you. Your attendance would be appreciated as we join in this global event and attempt to educate million's of people. Your participation could make a difference! MSJC GIS Day 2009 event will take place on Tuesday, November 17, 2009, at SJC building 100, Room 107A.

Join us at...

2:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m. Demonstration of How GIS is used in various industries

- Discuss how spatial literacy impacts our everyday life
- Using GIS to think spatially
- Lead participants through real-world examples they can relate to

3:30 p.m.-4:00 p.m. Open House

- Hand out GIS-Day materials through the various workstations as they observe different GIS applications on display
- Answer any questions participants might have

For more information call 951.487.3422 or visit the GIS Day Web site at www.gisday.com.